INNER FIRE CAPSULE COLLECTION

WEIGHTLESS FLUID MOTION AND INFINITE CURVES

With its exclusive High Jewellery capsule collection, Bucherer Fine Jewellery embraces the free-spirited expression of a modern woman, her energy and magnetism. Designer Hollie Bonneville Barden has created eight unique masterpieces made with dynamic mixed-cut diamonds. After all, diamonds are the ultimate source of light and carry that same inner fire as empowered women do. Elevated and effortless in style, these exquisite pieces mesmerize and are truly unexpected.

THE NATURAL PHENOMENA OF LIGHT Bucherer Fine Jewellery entrusted international jewellery designer Hollie Bonneville Barden with the creation of its latest High Jewellery pieces. The idea behind this unique capsule collection was to celebrate the vibrant and free spirit of the Bucherer woman. To express this abstract idea of a modern woman's inner fire and energy, Hollie turned to the natural world for inspiration. It was the power of light, and in particular, the halos of light found in the sky that gave shape to her designs. Using diamonds and white gold for her creations, Hollie created eight pieces that radiate with magnificence. Always listening to her intuition and following her inspiration from nature and its fierce beauty, she broke free from the classic codes of geometric lines to instead showcase weightless fluid motion and infinite curves within these masterpieces.

SPARKLING DIAMONDS IN PERFECT BALANCE For this capsule, only the most beautiful diamonds were selected and used by the Maison in various shapes and characters. For the centre stones of each piece, a combination of either pear, emerald or brilliant cuts were applied. With each piece, additional diamonds in brilliant and baguette cuts create a fascinating interplay of form, energy, and sparkle. In a further ode to detail and perfection, striking eagle prongs were applied to all centre stones. This detail elevates the sharp design of the collection whilst at the same time mirroring the shape of the centre stone. But what seems so brilliantly effortless and fluid in motion is indeed a demonstration of only the most supreme craftsmanship and the whole collection employs masterful techniques to stunning effect.

Even though this collection was created with a vision of unity, each piece within the suite possesses its own distinct beauty and spirit. There are ample details and always an element of the unexpected in all of them to be found. The highlight of the collection is the Inner Fire collier. Not only is the pear cut centre stone high in carat and a true showstopper, the collier in its entirety also reflects the spirit of this collection and High Jewellery perfectly, as it beautifully showcases artistic excellence whilst pushing the realms of possibility.

INTERVIEW WITH HOLLIE BARDEN

Where did you get the inspiration for the pieces of the Inner Fire collection? How and by what are you usually inspired the most?

I wanted this collection to celebrate the free-spirited expression of a modern woman. To express this abstract idea, I was drawn to the power of light and energy that we find in nature. With this collection, the power of light, and in particular, the halos of lights found in the sky gave shape to the designs of the pieces. I chose diamonds for this collection because each diamond is unique and they are the ultimate source of light. Diamonds carry that same inner fire as empowered women do. Each diamond is unique and can be seen to amplify light and energy.

What was the creation process like?

The creative process for this collection felt very intuitive. I wanted to create masterpieces that are distinctly pure and modern in style, coming to life through a language of diamonds. At the same time beautiful tension and contrast was created by combining various cuts. It was important to me, that all pieces would be both intricate yet effortless.

You are known for your distinctly artistic approach to design. Your designs are said to be energetic and boundary-pushing. Do you try to unweave these aspects in all your collections?

I think a feeling of energy, movement, and drama weaves through all my collections. High Jewellery is the ultimate expression for a Maison and provides a beautiful moment to showcase artistic excellence whilst also pushing the realms of possibility. I love this creative challenge of balancing craftsmanship with an element of the unexpected.

How did the collaboration with Bucherer Fine Jewellery come about, why did you choose to create this wonderful collection for the Maison?

I was introduced to the Maison a few years back and both Bucherer Fine Jewellery and I had been looking to collaborate for some time, but we wanted to wait for the right opportunity. Designing the Inner Fire capsule collection was just that. I was delighted when Bucherer Fine Jewellery asked me to work on this new high jewellery collection and to celebrate the vibrant and free spirit of the Bucherer woman.

What do the pieces of the Inner Fire collection stand for and what kind of women do they appeal to?

This collection breaks traditions of diamond jewellery and reveals expressive and unexpected ways of wearing diamonds. I want these pieces to speak to confident and empowered women to express themselves in their most authentic ways.
